Congratulations to our oboe student ROBERT (RJ) WAKEFIELD-CARL and his teacher AMY GOLLINS on winning FIRST PLACE at the VOCE (Vocalists, Orchestral Instrumentalists and Chamber Ensembles) South Bay Competition!!

Like last year, the judges have been very impressed by the high levels of all VOCE performers; the South Bay VOCE program is getting increasingly recognized for its excellent participants.

As a First Place Winner RJ will perform at:

- The VOCE WINNERS RECITAL (South Bay Branch), on January 31st, 2016 at 7PM at the Rolling Hills Covenant Church Community Center
- The STATE FINALS which will be held on Sunday, April 17, 2016 at Chapman University, 333 North Glassell, Orange, CA 92866.

Robert (RJ) Wakefield-Carl began playing Oboe in the 4th grade. He plays Oboe and English Horn with the PV Symphonic Band, Asia America Youth Symphony, and the RHCC orchestra. He is currently a freshman at Peninsula High where he plays Bassoon for the symphonic orchestra and is also an accomplished pianist. He is currently studying with Amy Gollins at the HYPERIUM Music Conservatory and has received honors from RCM, CM and VOCE participation.
